Regional Road Maintenance Symposium*

Presented by the AfPA AustStab and IPWEA SA

The Regional Road Maintenance Symposium (RRMS) 2026 is a one-day, practical industry forum for professionals delivering and managing road maintenance and rehabilitation works across regional and local government road networks in South Australia.

Organised jointly by the Australian Flexible Pavement Association (AfPA), Pavement Recycling & Stabilisation Association (AustStab) and Institute of Public Works Engineering Australasia (IPWEA) SA, the RRMS brings together councils, state road authorities, contractors, consultants and suppliers to share knowledge and advance constructable, cost-effective approaches across:

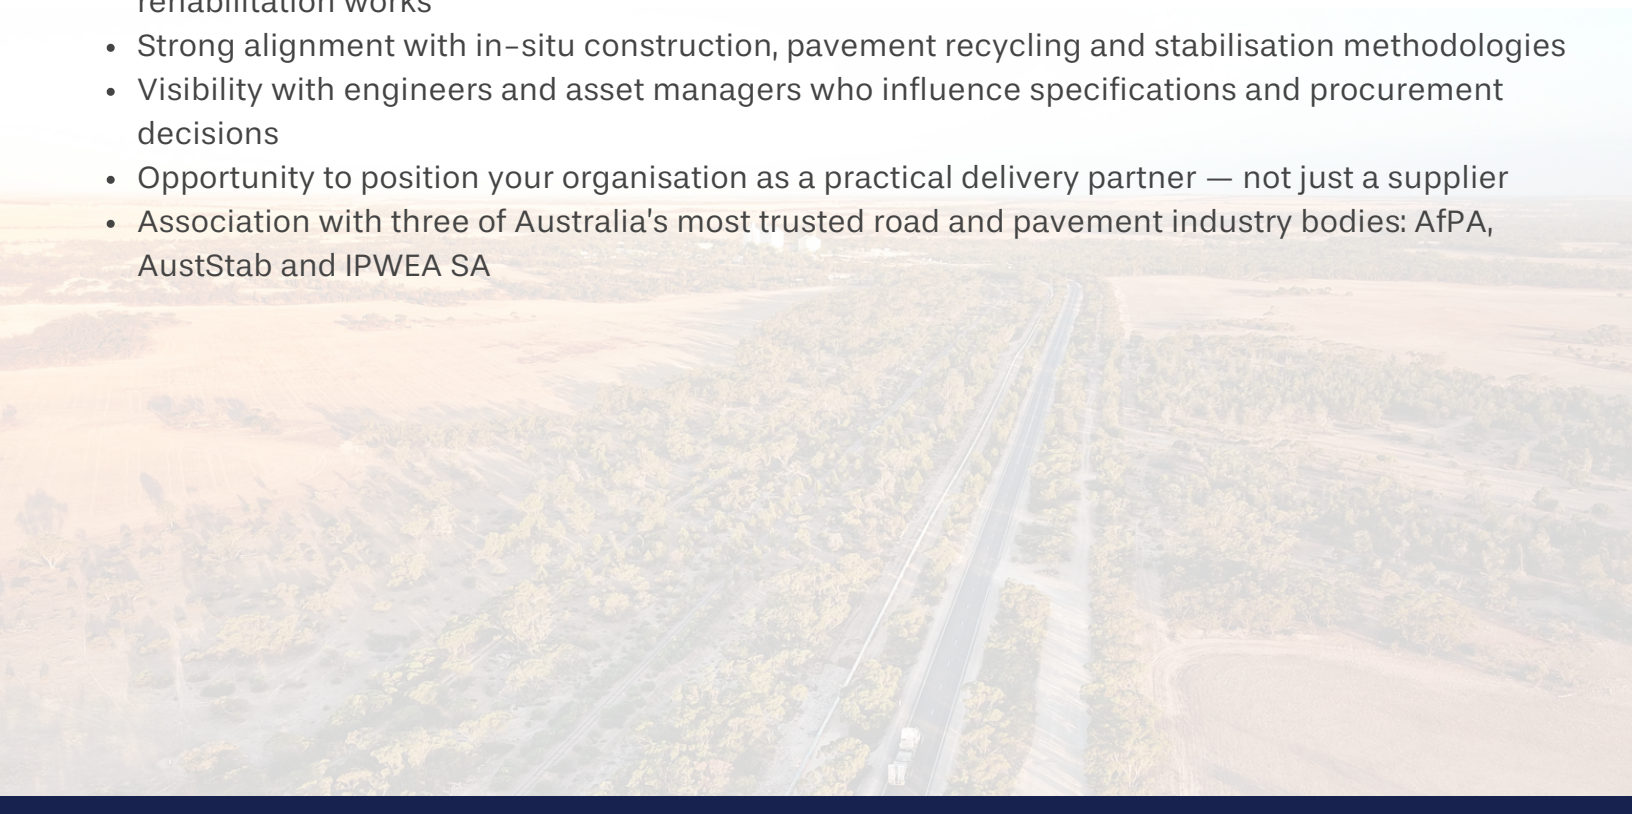

- Routine and reactive road maintenance programs
- Pavement rehabilitation and life-extension works
- Pavement recycling and reuse of in-situ materials
- Stabilisation techniques that improve pavement performance, resilience and whole-of-life value

Sponsoring the RRMS 2026 puts your brand in front of a highly targeted, decision-making audience — and positions your organisation at the centre of one of the most relevant and targeted road maintenance events in South Australia.

Why Sponsor the RRMS 2026?

Sponsoring the Regional Road Maintenance Symposium gives your organisation direct, meaningful access to the decision-makers and delivery professionals shaping road maintenance and rehabilitation across South Australia's regional and local government networks.

- Direct access to councils and road authorities planning and delivering maintenance and rehabilitation works
- Strong alignment with in-situ construction, pavement recycling and stabilisation methodologies
- Visibility with engineers and asset managers who influence specifications and procurement decisions
- Opportunity to position your organisation as a practical delivery partner — not just a supplier
- Association with three of Australia's most trusted road and pavement industry bodies: AfPA, AustStab and IPWEA SA
